

To throw up I felt really seasick and had to throw up.	To vomit
To come down with I think I'm coming down with the flu	To become or to be sick with some illness
To block up My nose is all blocked up.	Obstructed, blocked, no able to pass through
To swell up My ankle was all swollen up after I fell.	To expand abnormally
To pass out He drank too much and passed out on the couch.	To become unconscious/ to faint
To care for I care for my granny, who's really ill right now.	To look after and provide for the needs of someone
To pull through The illness is difficult to overcome, but we hope she'll pull through.	To get through an illness or other dangerous or difficult situation
To act up My back has been acting up all morning.	A physical problem that becomes active after sometime of being dormant
To break out in Thanks to my allergies I sometimes break out in a rash	To be suddenly affected by an unpleasant sensation or condition
To burn out He needs to relax more or soon he'll burn out.	To become complly over exhausted from work and having a mental breakdown