

ACROSS

5. To become less friendly or emotionally close over time
6. To move to and start living in the same apartment/ house as your partner
7. To kiss and hold someone romantically
8. To start living in a place where you intend to stay for a long time, usually with your partner
9. forgive someone for and be friendly again after having had a fight or argument

DOWN

1. To end the love relationship
2. To start to fall in love, to suddenly start to have romantic feelings about someone
3. To accept or continue to accept an unpleasant situation or experience
4. Something that harms or can possibly destroy a relationship
5. To start to date, to start to have a romantic relationship with someone

ACROSS

- To become less friendly or emotionally close over time
- To move to and start living in the same apartment/ house as your partner
- To kiss and hold someone romantically
- To start living in a place where you intend to stay for a long time, usually with your partner
- forgive someone for and be friendly again after having had a fight or argument

DOWN

- To end the love relationship
- To start to fall in love, to suddenly start to have romantic feelings about someone
- To accept or continue to accept an unpleasant situation or experience
- Something that harms or can possibly destroy a relationship
- To start to date, to start to have a romantic relationship with someone